

Aquarium Quiz 2014

Encircle the best answer.

- How many anemones are in this aquarium?
 - two brown ones and one white one
 - two orange-and-white and one black-and-white
 - three species
- Hippocampus comes* and Cypraea tigris can live together in this aquarium because _____.
 - they are not enemies
 - the big cowry can not swim after the seahorse
 - the seahorse can not swim after the cowry
- The three species of anemones in this aquarium differ in color, size, behavior but they all have _____.
 - tentacles
 - spines
 - arms
- Rabbitfishes are herbivorous; at sea they eat _____.
 - soft seaweeds and seagrass
 - rabbits
 - fresh mangrove leaves
- The crawling shelled animals in this aquarium are all:
 - mollusks
 - crustaceans
 - invertebrates
- Lauridromia dehaani* is a kind of _____.
 - globular crab
 - brown sponge
 - marine crustacean
- The silver perch and the toadfish can live together in this aquarium because _____.
 - they are herbivorous
 - the silver perch swims, the toadfish hides
 - the toadfish swims, the silver perch hides
- Prionocidaris baculosa* has a mouth at the undersurface, an anus on upper surface, and thick spines used for _____.
 - fighting
 - feeding
 - crawling
- Abalone meat is an expensive seafood for export. Abalone shells can be made into beautiful ornaments, such as:
 - trochus buttons
 - kapis windows and lamp shades
 - mother of pearl décor panels
- Milkfish and shrimps are produced in what kind of farm?
 - brackishwater ponds
 - marine cages
 - concrete tanks
- Bulgan, alimango, and bagongon share the same natural habitat in the _____.
 - mangroves
 - coral reefs
 - seagrass beds
- All the sea stars in this aquarium _____.
 - have long arms
 - have five legs
 - have sticky tube feet
- Snapper, cowries, volutes, and murex shells have something in common.
 - They are all gastropods.
 - They are all black.
 - They are all carnivorous.
- The crabs in this aquarium have a hard red _____ that covers and protects the abdomen and internal organs.
 - chitin
 - exoskeleton
 - carapace
- Pompanos have a silvery skin and _____.
 - swim slowly near the water surface
 - swim in large schools
 - swim near the bottom in a fast and jerky way
- One species of goby in this aquarium is edible and the other is not. The poisonous goby _____.
 - has big brown blotches on the body
 - has many silvery spots on the body
 - positions its body vertically
- Groupers are large protogynous hermaphrodites that mature first as females. The groupers in this aquarium are:
 - males
 - females
 - juveniles
- The puffers in this aquarium _____.
 - have inflated abdomens
 - have long spines sticking out
 - have different sizes and color patterns
- The boxfishes in this aquarium have armored bodies. What is the armor made of?
 - box
 - scales
 - skeleton
- Amphiprion polymnus* and Stichodactyla haddoni have a special relationship called _____.
 - symbiosis
 - friendship
 - commensalism